

Tunisia is achieving outstanding economic progress, experiencing a GDP growth of 4% this year. Key sectors, such as technology and renewable energy, are thriving, fueled by record-high foreign investments and the government's excellent business-friendly policies.